COUNT HERBERT BISMARCK TALKS ABOUT HIS FATHER,

And Says the Relations of the Kaiser and Prince Have Not Been Improved by Recent Cabinet Changes.

ITALY'S DEADLY QUAKES

HUNDREDS OF PEOPLE KILLED-MANY BUILDINGS WRECKED.

Jose Salvador Franch, the Barcelona Anarchist, Executed This Morning-War in Africa.

LONDON, Nov. 20.-The Pall Mall Gazette publishes an interview this afternoon which one of its correspondents has had with Count Herbert Bismarck in Berlin. Referring to the health of his father, Prince Bismarck, the Count said: "You should not forget that my father's age is beyond the allotted time of the Bible. He has weathered many storms and has had little leisure in life. But his hardest trials have come within the past four years, and at a time of life when he should be spared every aggravation of anxiety. Add to this his active, ever busy intellect, his deep concern for every important question of the day, and, more than all, his concern for Germany's prosperity, to which he has devoted his life, and I question if any other man has braved life's tempests with better results. But he is fast getting old. He suffers from no organic disease. He is weakened by time, and cannot, even with the greatest precautions, continue much longer. We, of course, are very anxious about him, and he is scarcely ever out of sight. Of necessity we are prepared for God's will."

When questioned in regard to the friendship of Prince Hohenlohe, the new Chancellor, for Prince Bismarck, Count Herbert said: "We are no nearer a solution than before. Of course, the new Chancellor is a perfect gentleman. But there are factors near him which always necessitate a difference of opinion.'

"Do you consider the appointments to the chancellorship and to the office of Stadthalter (Governor) of Aisace-Lorraine happy selections?" was the next question asked by the correspondent. (Prince Hohenlohe-Langenberg was made Governor of Alsace-Lorraine after the elevation of his kinsman. Prince Hohenlohe-Schillingfurst, from that post to the chancellorship.)

"Weil," replied the Count, viciously, "it remains in the family, at all events. And, since it is a case similar to America's system of dividing the spoils, I consider my opinion of little importance."

"But every one believes that there is a cordial understanding between Prince Hohenlohe and your father," continued the in-

"In that case," Count Bismarck remarked, "I see no use for disturbing the happy dream."

Further, Count Herbert Bismarck is said to have added a gibe which convinced the interviewer that Prince Bismarck and Prince Hohelohe are not on friendly terms. Asked about the new Czar of Rusisa, Count Herbert said: "A new and particularly youthful monarch nearly always makes changes, some more startling than others. That depends upon the temperament of the sovereign.' Then, with a laugh, Count Bismarck is reported to have added: "In Russia's case there is every reason to hope for the best.' "From a lifelong friend of Prince Bismarck, a person who is closely related to the royal house of Bavaria," said the correspondent, "I learn that so long as Dr. Von Boetticher and Frieherr Von Bieber-stein remain influential in government affairs cordial relations with Prince Bismarck are impossible." To this the Count remarked: "We are still a good way from a sincere reconciliation. There will always be two Chancellors of Germany-one at Friedrichsruhe, who holds the key to the heart of the nation.

German Editors Sentenced to Two

Months' Imprisonment. COLOGNE, Nov. 20.-The trial of Herr Kleser, editor of the West German Altgemein Zeitung, on the charge of libeling Marschal von Bieberstein, Imperial Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, for asserting that the latter wrote an article in the Kladder Datsch reflecting upon certain government officials, including Baron Kiderlen-Waechter, at that time chief of the Press Department of the Foreign Office, opened to-day. Von Kiderlen-Waechter, it will be remembered, fought a duel in this connection with Dr. Polstorff, editor of the Kladder Datsch, and thereby ruined his political prospects just about as he was being appointed minister to Hamburg. The Kladder Datsch, early last year, was engaged in publishing a series of attacks upon the Foreign Office, and this led to resentment upon the part of a certain military clique, who prompted Baron Von Kiderlen-Waechter to challenge the editor of the Kladder Datsch. Among the things which the Kladder Datsch attempted to prove was that Von Kiderlen-Waechter and Von Holstein really nurtured the ill-feeling be-tween Prince Bismarck and Emperor Wil-

Von Bieberstein took the witness stand and denied being the author of the article question. Furthermore, he declared that cleser's statements were completely un-ounded. He had decided not to prosecute the Kladder Datsch in order to avoid giving an opportunity to discuss appointments to diplomatic posts, but he had written to the editor of the Kladder Datsch, inviting him to attack him personally if he had any fault to find with the Foreign Office, instead of attacking defenseless officials. Von Bieberstein also said he had informed Kleser that he should declare his statements to be wholly untrue. Gen. Von. Caprivi had t a similar invitation to the Kladder In addition to Kleser there were two other defendants, Zimmerman and Nessler. The court sentenced Kleser and Nessler each to

The German consul also made a brief speech of

Mr. Bayard expressed his thanks for the reception tendered him. He added: "I speak with emphasis and with the same voice on both sides of the Atlantic. I may say that the acceptance of my speech was as hearty among my own people as here. I believe I understand the heart of your peo-ple and my relations to it. I hope to bring still closer together the hearts and hands

In an interview, speaking of the recent election in the United States, Mr. Bayard said that he was very far from believing that the true meaning of the results should be construed as an approval of the spirit of what is known as McKinleyism, which, he added, is a policy of isolation of American industries from any participation or community in the rest of the world.

WAHEHES DEFEATED.

An African Stronghold Captured by a Force of Germans.

BERLIN, Nov. 20.-News has reached here of sharp fighting between the Germans and the Wahehe tribe. The Governor of German East Africa, Von Schele, telegraphed from Dares, Salaam, that on Oct. 30 Kiurgena, the capital of the Wahehe territory, was stormed and captured by the Germans. In the engagement, which lasted several hours, Lieutenant Maas and eight Wahehe were heavy. A large number of cattle, much ivory and a number of guns and rifles lost by the Selewsky expedition were recovered. That body dispatched a telegram to Emperor Francis Joseph requesting him to refuse the royal assent to the civil marriage and connected bills, and also sent telegrams to the Empress and to Archduke Joseph asking them to use their influence to prevent the measures becoming law. Archduke Joseph replied: "Hearty thanks. My prayers ascend to heaven for the success of your labors." This incident caused a sensation, as it was the open declaration of a member of the imperial family in favor of the Clerical party. Premier Wekerle, replying to the questions on this subject, said that the right of public meeting and freedom of speech were inviolable, and advised a counter agitation, adding that the government would deal with any abuse of

OUTRAGES BY TURKS

CHRISTIAN ARMENIANS AGAIN THE VICTIMS OF OPPRESSION.

Feachers and Students Thrown Into Prison Without Cause-Appeal to President Cleveland.

LONDON, Nov. 20 .- A letter appears in the Times stating that one of the bestknown teachers in St. Paul's Institute at Tarsus and four students were seized and imprisoned by Turks, at Odana, in a horrible den with murderers and thieves for no fault of their own, but merely to spite the Armenian school and extort money from them.

A prominent official having sent word they were released on the payment of £12. The letter adds that this is only a sample of the Turkish oppression of Christians every part of the empire. There have been similar occurrences at Aintash and

A dispatch from Berlin to the Daily News says that the Vossische Zeitung declares that if the Porte is unable to stop the oppression in Armenia the powers must stop it, when it is most likely that Armenia will be separated from Turkey.

A dispatch to the Times from Constantinople says that the commission appointed by the Sultan to inquire into the reported nassacre of Armenians is compos Abdullah Pasha, general of division, Twefik Pasha, general of brigade, both of whom are aids to the Sultan; Medjib Bey, an official belonging to the Ministry of the Interior, and Omer Bey, director of the savings bank. They gained access to the mountain villages through treachery and killed 500 Armenians. The Turks killed many Kurds for refusing to assist them i Appeal to President Cleveland.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 20 .- The recent massacres in Armenia have aroused deep sympathy for ... e people of that country, which has resulted in the organization of the Philarmonic Association of the Northwest. The object of the society is to create a sympathy and aid by its influence for the people of Armenia. The society was organized through the efforts of Harant Mesrob Kiretchjian, secretary of the Persian exposition commission, and member of the Parliament of Religions. The society starts out with a large number of members, among which are C. A. Pilisbury, Senator Washburn, Mayor Eustis and many of the most prominent citizens of the Northwest. The following letter has been sent to Presilent Cleveland:

"It is not possible that your Excellency should not be intensely aroused with horror and indignation at the inhuman outrages committed by barbarous fiends in Armenia on the life and honor of an innocent, Christian people. Nor can your Ex-cellency have falled to be filled with admiration and, as a Christian, with pride for the heroic courage with which young Armenian women have stood face to face with ferocious rufflans in the midst of ideous carnage, and ave chosen a hornble death in preference to life and luxury in order not to deny Christ. It is the criminal negligence of Europe to enforce the sixty-first article of the treaty of Berlin that, after bringing awful calamities upon our people, has culminated in these last horrors that put to shame the blackest page of history. A giance at that sixty-first article is sufficient to show the awful responsibility of Europe.
"Your Excellency will not need any rompting to express to the signatory powers of the Berlin treaty, and especially to Great Britain, your deep horror at this foul and heinous crime against the Armenian nation and an humanity, and to use all your influence with said powers of Europe for the fulfillment of their violated pledge and the immediate establishment regime in the home of our languishing people, whereby their life and honor and property may be secured against further outrage at the hands of bloodthirsty oppressors. By your Excellency's energetic action in this protest and appeal in the cause of humanity, the biessings of heaven will descend upon your Excellency in the tion and a lasting honor will redound to the name of the United States as well as to your Excellency's administration."

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 20 .- A serious mine accident occurred to-day shortly after noon at the Blanch coal mines on the Panhandle railroad at Collier's Station. His brains were dashed out and scattered. His wife was the first to find his body, and she swooned way and is now lying prostrated by the shock. There is little hope that she will

The news of the disaster quickly spread, and in a few moments hundreds of people were crowded about the mouth of the mine. There were many heartrending scenes. In a short time a rescuing party, consisting of George Benbeon, "Nick" Kernis, Arthur Ward, John Muter, John Stewart and William Davis, was organized and went into the mines after the bodies. When the bodies were brought to the surface many women swooned at the sight. Prosecuting Attorney Cotton and Coroner Walkinsaw, of Wellsburg, were soon on the ground and took charge of the bodies and will conduct a rigid investigation. This is the second accident of the kind which has occurred at this mine. Just two years ago (Nov. 21, 1892) a similar explosion occurred, in which three men were killed and saven injured. The State mine inspector will be here to-morrow and take part in the in-

There were many marvelous escapes today. When the explosion occurred, William Davis was in the entry, 100 feet from the entrance. He lay down near the rib of the mine and the whirlwind, carrying rocks, fire and death, passed over him. An empty coal car standing at the entrance of the mine was blown twenty-five yards. The mine is owned by W. E. Smith, of Wellsburg, and L. O. Smith, or Cumberland. CHICAGOANS INJURED.

Skylight Broken by the Fall of a Steel Smoke Stack. CHICAGO, Nov. 20 .- A sixty-foot steel smoke stack was tern from the University Club building by the wind to-day and, crashing on the skylight of the Handy Abstract building on Washington street, drove a shower of two-inch thick glass into the offices below, dangerously injuring two men and cutting and bruising almost everyone of the 125 people in the offices. The dangerously hurt are: H. H. HANDY, president of the Handy

Abstract Company. C. O. BOSTRECTA, clerk. Others who were seriously injured are: Ex-United States District Attorney homas Milchrist.

Taylor H. Snow, a real-estate dealer. G. A. Tallman, clerk. J. O. Conner, clerk. M. H. Brown, attorney.

The accident occurred just before noon, when every desk in the abstract offices was occupied and while a large number of attorneys and clients were transacting business there. The big skylight, covering a large portion of the building, was protected by a strong and heavy steel netting, and that alone prevented the heavy smokestack rom going through the roof. Had it done so large loss of life would have resulted, as twenty-five or thirty clerks were bunched close together below when it struck. Ex-United States District Attorney Milchrist narrowly escaped death. A large piece of glass struck him on the shoulder, cutting through his clothes and leaving a long ugly gash. As it struck he leaped to one side just as a piece of the skylight three feet square crashed down edgewise on the spot where he had stood, H. H. Handy, the millionaire president of the company, was cut in a dozen places. A large fragment of glass grazed his head, tearing a large wound in the side of his face; both hands and arms were cut and his right shoulder was cut to the bone. The noise of the crashing glass and the cries of the alarmed clerks caused a small panie in the building, the tenants jamming the corridors and stairways in their rush for the streets. Several young women clerks and stenographers fainted and were painfully crushed in the crowd, but none was dangerously hurt. A score of physicians were called to dress the wounds and carriages and ambulances were called out to carry away the injured. It was rumored that a portion of the building had collapsed, but examination showed that the building was uninjured, aside from the breaking of the skylight. A portion of the falling smokestack struck the roof of the restaurant of William Boyle, creating a panic among the people at luncheon there, but no one was injured.

The Handy building is a handsome structure with a sixteen-story front on Washington street diagonally across from the City Hall. The offices of the abstract company are situated in a broad one-story addition, running back to the alley in the rear. The University Club building, fronting on Dearborn street, is twelve stories high, and the sixty feet of steel stack falling from its height of 112 feet struck the one-story Handy addition with terrific
